

Black History Month All-Star: “CC” Collier

Celester “CC” Collier has a rich basketball past in Texas. He played college basketball at Paris Junior College from 1979 through 1981. He would then finish his college career, joining the Southwest Texas State team in 1981 through 1983.

In 1984 he would take over his alter mater as head coach and coach for two years. After years of assistant jobs, he would find his home at Bowie High School, where he has coached the Bulldog’s basketball team for 30 years.

At Bowie, he’s won multiple District Coach of the Year award and district championships several minds. He’s molded several boys into outstanding men teaching them leadership and teamwork. In 2006 Collier led the Bulldogs to a 33-3 record and was named Coach of the Year by the Austin American-Statesman.

In 2001 he was placed in Southwest Texas State’s Hall of Honor. His success is a massive factor in Texas High School’s hiring, which currently has 56% minority head coaching in 5A and 6A schools.
